RESPONSE

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

On 20 April 2006, the PTO issued a communication in which Applicants' 13 April 2006 Amendment was considered "non-compliant". The alleged non-compliance was stated as "in claims [sic] amended claims 1 and 27 where brackets are being used for deletions, double brackets should be used".

There are no brackets being used for deletions in claim 1 or in claim 27. The brackets used in those claims are not intended to indicate deletions. Instead, the brackets in claims 1 and 27 are parts of scientific notations, in such phrases as "whereby the d[0.5] value is less than 100 micrometres".
